18-86

Accept my thanks for your good wishes and my congratulations on being spared on these days of disorder. Your pupils might have been frightened and added to your worries. Have good courage; pray and keep calm remembering that God is watching over us.

Here there is uproar at night, but they do not go so far as to assault anyone.

I have not been able to come and see you and it would be difficult for me to fix the time when I will have that pleasure.

Receive my blessing and count on my devotedness.

Your Father in Jesus Christ
