

I am answering the novices according to their needs, as you will see God is obviously helping them. I am delighted with their sentiments. If they become cheerful and generous, they will all have the happiness of reaching their goal. We will see what Sister N. will do.

The two young Sisters must have courage and filial confidence in their good Mother. I am not writing to them, but I am praying for them; tell them so and add that their letters gave me very great pleasure. I bless divine goodness for the graces he is showering on our dear children. They are great, those graces; let us try and profit by them. You will take care to go and accompany our children to the fountain of Holy Love; draw from it and make your pupils do so especially on the feast of the Sacred Heart of Jesus. How sweet it is to know and make loved this God of mercy and love. Love him too, dear Sister, yes, love Jesus. I have no more perfect recommendation to make you. You know how much affection I have for you in that heart of our lovable Savior.
